CONFESSION OF BOY FIREBUG IS CONFIRMED

Facts Found Which Bears Out His Statement That He Fired
Fairmont School
PICTURE RECOGNIZED HERE
Captain Davidson Tells of Visit
Of Youth on Afternoon
Of Blaze

Recognition of the picture in Sunday's paper of Bill Fisher, Oakland's juvenile fire-bug, by Captain Davidson of fire station No. 4, as the youth who had visited the station on the afternoon of October 18, established beyond a doubt that it was he who had set the Fairmont school on fire in El Cerrito at that time. It was stated yesterday, Chief W. P. Cooper, Richmond fire chief, confirmed the fact through Fire Chief Short of Oakland.

Fisher came to station No. 4, at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Davidson reports. He talked to the men there about the apparatus, and seemed interested in all they had to say. From there he caught a streetcar back to Oakland, but on his way through El Cerrito he stopped off and set the Fairmont school on fire.

He found the back door of the school open, and went down in the basement. There he piled up all the rubbish he could find, and set it ablaze, Chief Cooper says. Fisher admitted the following facts to Fire Chief Sam Short of Oakland, Cooper learned when he went to that city to confirm the belief that the boy had been to Richmond.

Fisher says that he never set any fires in Richmond. The Fairmont fire being the only offense he committed in this section of the bay.

Will Place Light In Front of School

Installation of a street light in front of the Lincoln school was ordered by the city council at its meeting last night. The light had been requested owing to the large number of meetings held at the school. Recommendation that lights be installed on Ninth street and Eighth street, in the center of the blocks to aid the police in watching cars parked on these streets, was delayed for one week.

Zoning Law Is Given Reading

After a number of minor changes had been made Richmond's new, long debated and much revised zoning ordinance was given its first reading at the meeting of the city council last night.

The latest change relates to churches. Churches may be constructed in any section of the city but when erected in residential zones, between two homes, must be set back a distance equal to that of houses on each side, according to the new ruling.

Will Confer On Fire Hydrant

City Manager James A. McVittie was instructed by the council last night to confer with the water company relative to the installation of a fire hydrant at Fortieth and Solano.
A recent communication from the company stated that the installation of 1300 feet of pipe would be necessary before the fire hydrant could be placed. Councilman Frank Scholtes stated that he believed but 500 feet of pipe would have to be laid.

Japan Honors Unknown in U. S. Protest

(By Universal Service)
TOKIO, Nov. 10.—The war office today granted permission for the removal of the "unknown patriot" who committed hara-kari on the American embassy grounds several weeks ago as a protest against the American exclusion law.

The "unknown," whose identity is still a mystery, will be disinterred from his present resting place and be removed to a military cemetery, where all the honors of a dead hero will be bestowed.

PRESIDENT TO HEAD RITES

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President
Coolidge will lead the nation's pilgrimage to the tomb of the unknown soldier tomorrow—Armistice day—assisted by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur and Assistant Secretary of War Davis, representatives of the military forces of the nation. The executive will place floral wreaths upon the simple slab that marks the last resting place of the soldier who typifies America's dead in the World war.

Suffers Amputation of His Right Leg

Ernest Martin, of Richmond of 436 9th street, had his right leg amputated at the Fubia hospital in Oakland, last Saturday morning.
Dr. Bell, bone specialist of Oakland was the attending physician. Martin received a bruise on the leg about seven months ago, and in spite of all medical attention the leg would not respond to treatment. Martin resides with his mother Mrs. Georgina Martin, and will be twenty-one years of age this month. He is recovering as rapidly as can be expected.

Martin is a member of the DeMolay Lodge of Richmond and of the Rod and Gun club of the Standard Oil company.

Will Set Date for New Bond Election

On Wednesday night the San Pablo school trustees will hold a meeting to set a date for the next school bond election to finance improvements and additions to the San Pablo school. The amount of bond will be $45,000. Henry C. Solto, clerk of the school board, believes that the election will be held in the early part of December. The last election, held in October was defeated by three votes.

Raise Quarantine on Rodeo Schools

Schools at Rodeo, Crockett, Tormey, Selby and Pinole were re-opened yesterday, the co-operative quarantine measures having been lifted. Restrictions and quarantines were taken off last Saturday by Dr. C. R.
Blake, county health officer, who declared the danger period is now over.

PLANS BUILDING HERE

F. M. Black was granted a temporary permit by the city council last night for the construction of a cleaning and dyeing establishment in this city. The structure will be fire proof and modern in every way.

Highway Problems Are Discussed

DELEGATES OF RICHMOND IN ATTENDANCE

Eleven Counties Sent Delegates
To Conference Held
In Oakland

LOCAL PROBLEMS ARE TOLD
Widening of Road North of Richmond to Pinole Is Urged

Eleven counties were represented last night at the dinner given to the committee of nine, appointed by Governor Richardson to confer with the various counties as to their highway problems and the best means of financing them, at the Hotel Oakland.

H. A. Johnston, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, headed a committee from Richmond for the purpose of calling the attention of the committee of nine to the highway problems of Richmond and vicinity.

The dinner was sponsored by the good roads committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. W. J.
Hamilton, chairman of the board of supervisors of Alameda county, presided.

A plan presented to the committee outlining the needs of the counties, and talks were made by those present in favor of the project. Joseph R. Nolan, owner of the Oakland Tribune, spoke at some length, urging that the counties cooperate with each other, and work not only for their own good, but for that of the state as a whole.

Senator Arthur L. Breed, chairman of the committee of nine, also spoke.
He commented upon the various points of the plan. W. L. Miller, of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Frank A. Buchanan, chairman of Contra Costa county supervisors, H. L. Hinman, chairman of good roads, committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and many other prominent men from about the bay, gave talks.

The following plan was submitted to the committee for their approval:

1.—The widening of the state highway, north from Richmond to Pin-ole.
2.—Widening and straightening of the bridge across San Pablo creek at the intersection of San Pablo avenue and Twenty-third street, to insure a more direct route into Richmond by way of Twenty-third street.
3.—The taking over by the Senate of the county highway from Antioch to the tunnel on the Tunnel Road.

4.—Construction of a new highway through the Crow Canyon in order to give a more direct route from the East Bay District to Stockton.

5.—Paving of the Borden Highway.
The committee of nine is to investigate the 58 counties in the state. At the conclusion of their task they will submit a report to the governor, urging that certain action be taken with regard to the needs of the counties.

At the conclusion of the dinner a resolution was passed that the people assembled at the affair were unanimous in their support of the plans submitted by various committees.

made to the city council.

the report of the tax collector.

Total Of 103 Arrests Made During Month

One hundred and three persons were arrested, including seven women, during the month of October, according to the report of Police Chief Dan Cox presented to the city council last night. Of the women arrested the most serious charged was that of violation of the Wright act.

Police cars travelled a total of 12,981 miles during the month. Property reported stolen was valued at $5,403, while property recovered was valued at $4,012.

SCHOOLS TO PAY TRIBUTE TODAY

As there is no local celebration in observance of Armistice Day, school will continue throughout the day with the exception of a silent tribute to the departed for one minute, 10:59 to 11:00 a. m. It was announced at the meeting of the school board last night in the Lincoln school auditorium.

In the future it was decided that all graduates from the high school must wear the cap and gown. It is felt that this is more democratic, and does not allow distinction between the poor and the more fortunate.

Large Number Of Fire Hazards Are Abated Here

One hundred ninety-one fire hazards were abated in Richmond during the month of October, according to the report of Fire Chief W. P.
Cooper, presented to the city council last night. A total of $85 in specifications were made. The total fire loss was $95 of which $50 was on buildings and $45 on the contents.

miles; Engine No. 4, 2 alarms; Truck
No. 1, 6 alarms, 21.8 miles; Chemical

Business Property Changes Hands

Purchase by outside capitalists of a 50-foot lot located on the west side of Tenth street, adjoining the Elks building, was announced yesterday by Sidney S. Clark company, through whom the sale was made.
The land was owned by Alva Lamar who is understood to have received approximately $13,000 for the property.

Construction of a three story building on the property is understood to be considered. Clark refused to give out the names of the purchasers of the property.

Protest Possible R. R. Franchise

A petition protesting against the possible granting of a railroad franchise along Wright avenue was received by the city council last night, signed by property owners of the district. The communication declared that "we will hold the city responsible for any damages that may result from the granting of such a franchise". The petition was filed.

PURCHASE OF MORE LOTS IN PULLMAN ASKED

titions Council to Secure

ALSO ASK STREET CLOSING

Council Delays Action on Request

For Reconsideration On

Park Site

Petitions asking the city council to purchase additional lots in the Fullman tract, and to close Waller street, were presented at the meeting of the board last night. No estimates on price was given. The council already has purchased twelve lots in the district and would have 28 more to buy to own the entire block. Purchase of a majority of these lots would be necessary before the street could be closed.

The acquisition of the property was asked in a communication from the Pullman Parent-Teacher association.
The matter was referred to the council as a whole, no date being set for a consideration of the question.

The council also took under advancement petitions asking for a reconsideration of their refusal to purchase three lots next to the public library to be used as a park site for the price of $6,975.

Unable To Make Appropriation For Chest Drive

No appropriation will be made by the city council for the Community Chest drive until next year. This was the decision reached last night following a report of the finance committee that such an appropriation would be illegal, but that the next board of equalization could consider the matter. Appropriations for individual drives, such as Red Cross, or Boy Scouts would not be illegal,
according to City Attorney D. J.
Hall.

Police Court Fines $1477

Police court fines for October amounted to $1,477, according to the report of Police Judge C. A. Odell, submitted to the city council last night. Seventy-two cases came up during the month, of which 41 were fined. Seven commitments were issued and five withheld. Ten violations of the Wright act were heard, while 25 speeders explained to the judge.

Purchase Lots For Exchange

The city council last night ordered the drawing of warrants for the purchase of thirteen lots in the Santa Fe addition, which will be traded to the school board for 13 lots in the Nystrom addition. This property will be used as a park site.

PASSING OF LODGE MOURNED

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The death of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, caused profound sorrow in the national capital today. In all walks of life as well as in official, the passing of the distinguished legislator, author and scholar was generally mourned.
President Coolidge was deeply affected and in a formal statement characterized him as "one of the great men of our time."

Henry Cabot Lodge was born May 12, 1850 at Boston, Mass. The son of John Ellerton Lodge and Anna Cabot. He was educated in private schools and took his bachelor of arts degree from Harvard University at Cambridge in 1871, having prepared for a literary career. But the lure of legal training attracting him, he continued his studies at the same institution and in 1875 was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In 1876 he was admitted to the bar and in the same year was granted the degree of doctors of philosophy from Harvard for a mastery this is on "The Law of Anglo-Saxons".

WOULD SPEAK FOR COOLIDGE

Has Been Intimate Friend Of

Presidents For Many

Years

By JOHN T. LAMBERT
Staff Correspondent Universal Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican committee and captain-general of the Coolidge forces throughout the nation, will be the new United States Senator from Massachusetts and the new leader of the United States Senate, in fact, if not in name.

The situation is entirely in Butler's hands. He can have the appointment to succeed Senator Lodge, if he wants it. Once appointed he would be President Coolidge's spokesman in the Senate; therefore, it's leader, despite wishes and designs of the old guard Republicans.

For many years Butler has been an intimate friend and political confident of President Coolidge. It was at the President's request and by his decision that he became national chairman of the Republican organization, Governor Cox of Massachusetts, who will appoint Lodge's successor is a protégé of Butler's. He will do what is desired by the President and Butler.

What the President needs more than anything else is a "keynote" in the Senate. He has not had one.
Coolidge policies were gleefully kicked about, without defenders, in the last Congress. He had few, if any, confidants. There weren't five men of influence in both branches who boasted of personal loyalty to him.
He was an enigma to most of them.
His great popularity had not been attested by a national election.

Orchestra to Give Concert Here Tonight

velt auditorium. Carl Richard is

CONGRESS

The country is thankful for Coolidge. In two years, during which the president will struggle manfully with a distorted set of political blocs, egged on by our amiable friends, the democratic senators and congressmen, the country will get itself settled to spit on its electoral hands and smack the great deliberative, cogitative and investigative board for a file of serene shanties.

That is, unless the stinging rebukes which the tremendous popular vote for Coolidge and the defeat of some of the sassy senators who happened to be handy for picking, succeed in hammering some common sense into the two houses.

It is not desirable that the government present the spectacle of a cowed congress and a domineering executive. Rather there should be a strong, decided and combative congress at one end of Pennsylvania avenue and a fearless, upright and aggressive president at the other. We have the executive now, firmly seated for four years. At the White House, one can from this day henceforth, put one's finger on where Calvin Coolidge will stand, and as far as a human being can, be will be found to be right.

But the assortment of law-making gentlemen whom we have at the other end of the great avenue is by no stretch of the imagination strong, decided or righteously combative, but the belligerency is on intra-congressional or party or bloc lines and the bellicosity is undirected, unreasoning and unfair.

If the coming congress acts as the past one, it may be expected to listen to the black falsehoods of Robert M. La Follette, follow the nagging and ultra-partisan democratic minority into embroilments and split up in joyous confusion over every businesslike issue that the country or its president submit.

We hope for the best and apprehend little or no luck. But one thing is sure and that is that congress will be re-shaped on strong bi-partisan lines in just the proportion the country dislikes its childish misbehavior during the next two years.

RATES A LEATHER MEDAL

Mr. Bok, who paid $50,000 for another scheme to get the United States into the League of Nations, has been decorated by the queen of Hollan, his native country. "Because of her majesty's recognition of your faithful attachment to the country of your birth." Unfortunately we have a lot of other hyphenated Americans within our borders who remain more faithfully attached to their native land than to the nation that has given them a home and made them wealthy. But patriotic Americans will take care that citizens of that class will have little to do with shaping our foreign policy.

If you see a man eagerly gathering up old newspapers do not put him down as a secondhand dealer. He doesn't want to overlook any cross-word puzzles.

There are 2,000,000 more women than men in England, but they prevent them from having a majority at the polls by requiring all women who vote to admit to thirty years.

No more are free lectures and circus parades popular with the village tightwad when he takes out his girls. The radio has made his game easy.

"The best dressed woman in Paris" is coming to New York. The police are always busy in the Rialto trying to find the least dressed woman in New York.

Jack Dempsey wants the world to know that he is not engaged to Estelle Taylor or Ann Pennington and never was, which calls for congratulations—to the ladies.

Reading the announcement that a staple article of diet on ZR-3 is sausage, some miscreant telephones to say that he supposes that when they want to go faster they let out a link or two.

The Soviet government wants to sell 330 pounds of diamonds, which is a good tip for some bootlegger who may want to surprise the wife next Christmas.

New X-ray machine enables one to look right through doors, window shades, walls and floors, which means that we all might as well move into an aquarium.

The severest strain on maternal love imaginable is when a mother beholds her offspring accounted for a football game.

President Coolidge issued the annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation on Wednesday after the Tuesday that gave this country something substantial to be thankful for.

This is the west—the land of wide open spaces, where men are men and women are governors.

Fashion Hints

The Olympic Games Are Said to Have Had a Real Influence on Women's Fashions.

WHEN the history of costume of the early twentieth century is written there may be a paragraph or so dealing with the influence on women's dress and fashion of the Olympic Games of the year 1924, when they were held in France, and when it was as much a fashionable "stunt" to go to the games as it was to go to the races.

Observers in Paris last autumn—at least the really observant observers—felt that there was a distinct and definite effect as a result of the games. Women athletes from all over the world most of them with only the most casual and incidental interest in fashions, became without really realizing it themselves the object of much and deep interest on the part of designers and others who have a finger in the pie of fashion. These women athletes were extremely significant—they gave an idea of what clothes might be—but a more important idea of what clothes for the women of the nineteenth century might not be. An emphatic negative was given to those who had somehow hoped for a revival of snugly laced waists, and picturesque billowy petticoats.

So the trend of fashion continued on its way—women's frocks remained straight and skimp—skirts became shorter and waist lines faded even further into the limbo of fashionable nothingness.

The problem of designers and dressmakers obviously is to make these frocks that are perfectly comfortable, perfectly in keeping with the present-day demands of the girl who plays tennis and golf, rides, motors, swims and dances as keenly as her brother, as smart and interesting as possible. Women perhaps have put a rather hard task up to their dressmakers and designers—they want to be perfectly comfortable and perfectly healthy and unhindered in work and play and yet they want to look as appealing and as alluring and as interesting as women ever did.

The sketch shows a frock that was designed with all the demands of the up-to-date outdoors girl in mind—yet it really has considerable charm and allure. Made of plaid kasha with an interlaid box pleat at the front, it is trimmed with red suede collar and cuffs and is worn with a red suede hat.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

WHEN WEDDING BELLS RING

AT a fashionable wedding recently the bride's dress measured eight yards at the hem—an interesting detail in view of the fact that the narrow, very scant skirt is as much favored as ever. The gown in question was a present-day version of an 1860 wedding gown, with snugly drawn bodice and a normal waistline. Everything from her stiff bouquet to her round-toed, low-heeled slippers were in keeping with the period.

SOMETHING FOR BREAKFAST

Savory Fritters: Have on hand thin slices of cold cooked mutton, beef or veal. Cut into circles about an inch and a half across. Season the meat with a little ketchup or Worcestershire sauce. Have ready some mashed potato slightly moistened with hot milk—but not too moist. Cover both sides of the pieces of meat with the potato, and work them into smooth shapes. Have ready slightly beaten egg and fine cracker crumbs. Dip in egg and then in crumbs and fry in deep fat. If you like you may use unsweetened fritter batter to dip the fritters in place of egg and cracker crumbs.

THE LANGUAGE OF CREFS

Dishes served "au jus" such as "roast beef au jus," are served with the own juice—dish gravy as we would say. Au gratin does not really mean baked with cheese but simply applies to dishes prepared with sauce, bread crumbs and so on, and then baked in the oven or under the broiler. Dishes "au naturel" are not necessarily perfectly "natural" but are cooked plainly and simply.

Dishes served "a l'Escossaise," are done in the Scotch style, "a la Reine" in the queen's style, "a la Russe," in the Russian style and "a la Broche," are roasted before the fire on a spit. Dishes "au maigre" are cooked without meat, hence appropriate for Lenten fare, and dishes "au gras" are served with a rich fat sauce or gravy.

WHERE IT STARTED

THE ENGINEERS

The U. S. Engineers Corps was first organized in 1802, the organization consisting of one Colonel, one Lieut. Col., 2 Majors, and 4 Captains, 1st Lieuts, and 2nd Lieuts., with a few Cadets—the total number being not more than twenty. They were stationed at West Point, and became the nucleus of the present military academy.

WILL-CLOSE TODAY

All barber shops of Richmond will be closed today, in observance of Armistice Day. According to H. L. Springer, secretary of the Richmond Barber's union.

The Husband Tamer

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Luxury of Love" etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who seems to feel that his young wife exists only to help entertain his business friends. He goes abroad, after Patricia has insisted that she will live differently or leave him. She visits her sister.

CAROL WILLOUGHBY, and finds herself enrolled to help Carol's husband.

KEITH WILLOUGHBY, in his efforts to interest

GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier, in his affairs. Hewitt falls in love with Patricia, and for Keith's sake she cannot refuse to join a western camping trip, arranged by him.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XLII—SOMEONE TO THINK ABOUT

PATRICIA looked like a confirmed invalid the next day after a night of crying; not at all like the accident case whose beauty had attracted all the men at the hospital, and whose dainty lace breakfast jackets were the envy of the other convalescent women up in the sun parlor.

to anyone, and she hoped that Hewitt would not come until she felt more composed.

But soon the privacy of her corner was invaded, another patient was wheeled up right next to her. She eyed him from under the dainty lace bandeau that held back her hair. He had a nice head, was very old, and looked tired, somehow, of life. Patricia found herself taking quite an interest in him, and after awhile, when she had refused a proffer of his newspaper, she found herself chatting to him quite as though they were old friends.

"No children?" he said shaking his head reprovingly. "That is too bad. Your life is wasted if you don't have children."

Patricia agreed with him with a quick little nod, hardly trusting herself to speak.

"Your husband?" It was as though there were many questions he would ask that he suggested just in those two words.

"I've lost him," Patricia said hesitatingly, realizing that the impression she was giving was not quite the truth, and yet not wanting to go into details about her isolation.

He nodded sympathetically and went on to other subjects. He seemed to have endless curiosity about what the world was doing and illimitable enthusiasm for movements of all kinds.

"A philanthropist," Patricia decided, taking an even greater interest in him. "But not one of the soulless kind, a poor rich man who is trying to bring some happiness with his money."

After awhile Patricia found herself telling him a little about her life with Andrew—always maintaining a little guiltily the fiction that he was dead. She told him of how every detail of Andrew's business was an open book to her, and how she enjoyed it though she regretted not having children.

"When you have none of your own, the next best thing is to interest yourself in the many poor children who have no parents," he started telling her just as Carol and Keith and Hewitt rushed in to see her. And as they brought up chairs and started talking to her, the old man quietly signaled his nurse to come and wheel him away.

"Who is that old man and what was he telling you that was so engrossing?" Hewitt demanded querulously. "You hardly noticed us when we came."

"I don't know who he is," Patricia answered a little stiffly, "but he is a wonderful person, and I find him quite inspiring. I—"

But before she could continue, Hewitt was apologizing profusely: "Forgive me, Patricia, for speaking as I did," he begged of her. "I had no right to do it. But I am so worried about you, and so lonely for you that it made me just wild with jealousy when I came in to find you talking to another man."

Carol and Keith stayed but a moment and then rushed away, but before Carol left she tucked in Patricia's hand a letter that she noticed with a flutter was from Andrew.

Pat's neighbor was very old, and looked tired, somehow, of life.

SWEET POTATO SOUFFLE

Boil four medium sized sweet potatoes. When done peel and mash. Beat the yolks of two eggs. Add two tablespoons of cream to them, then beat into the potato, with salt and pepper to season, and place the dish in the oven while you beat the whites to a stiff froth. Draw the dish to the edge of the oven, fold in the whites, replace and bake until light and a delicate brown. Serve at once before it falls.

"The Freshie" at Richmond Today

When Director W. Hughes Curran took his company to the little border town of Rattlesnake, he did not dream of finding any difficulties in the filming of "The Freshie" which will be screened for the last time tonight at the Richmond theatre.

Big Boy Williams, the featured star of the production, was ready for a new sort of thrill, but the unexpected thrill he got out of a morning's ride, soon after his arrival, threatened a removal of the company to a safer location. He had been jogging along slowly, following the Rio Grande, when he noted some figures moving in the underbrush on the other side of the narrow river.

It did not occur to Mr. Williams to pay any particular attention, but evidently the thin looking figure in the saddle did attract some attention from the other side of the river. As he was cantering of ahead, he heard the crack of a rifle, and a bullet whizzed by his head.

Thoroughly frightened, although courageous enough for any thrilling movie stunt, the star instantly whipped up his horse and flew out of range. The authorities were notified and a searching party was sent out, but evidently the Mexicans had escaped.

The company secured the assurance of the sheriff that they would have ample protection in case it was necessary for them to do any work along the border, but they all stayed pretty close to town and the days work was finished.

Other features on the same program include Jack Dempsey in "All's Well On The Ocean" another fight and win picture; "The Bonehead's" comedy knockout.

Story Told of Auto Endurance Race

The following letter from L. M. Dudley, Inc., automobile dealers of Vallejo, has been received by the Monett Motor company of Richmond, in regard to the 100 hour endurance run, that was recently held in Solano county:

Monett Motor Company, Richmond, California.

"Gentlemen:

The following may interest you in connection with our 100 Hour Endurance Run.

"After the Star and Overland came out with their remarkable and impracticable gas mileage, we decided to give the public a real picture of mileage obtainable under actual driving conditions. We held our Chevrolet at an average speed of 34.89 miles per hour for the full 100 hours, or the equivalent of 264 miles more than the distance from Vallejo to New York, averaging 24 miles per gallon of gas.

"The third day of the run we challenged the Star and Overland dealers to an additional endurance run to Lake Tahoe, and return, a distance of 425 miles, starting at sea level and obtaining an altitude of 7394 feet.

"Nothing was heard from Overland but the Star dealers, lacking nerve themselves, called for help. The Star factory responded, sending their Trick Stunt driver, Julius Dusevoir, who worked feverishly for 12:15, October 11th, both cars were on the line, the Chevrolet having ended the 100 hour run at 12 o'clock and not stopping the motor.

"Everything was peaceful until we reached the Vacaville Detour an exceptionally bad 8 mile stretch, where Mr. Dusevoir shot around us. This ended the Endurance Run and a Race started. We immediately took the lead again.

"The law held Chevrolet up at Loomis and we were forced into second place, but as soon as the grades were encountered we passed the Star, this time holding the lead to Colfax, where the Chevrolet stopped to put on chains. On the Alta grade, where Mr. Dusevoir persisted in holding the center of the road for a considerable distance ("Chevrolets do not hold other motorists back on the hills") we took the final lead and held same to the Tavern at Lake Tahoe.

"On the return trip, Chevrolet pulled away from her competitor a distance of 3 miles on the 26 mile Emerald Bay grade and saw nothing more of them until Vallejo was reached. The Star arrived 15 minutes later—But Get This—The Star Which Advertised 36 3-5 Miles Per Gallon on Their 100 Hour Economy Run, Actually Got But 19.6 miles Per Gallon on a Real Practical Run. After Being Adjusted and Driven by Their Factory Expert."

C. Johnson, reporter for the local Sciots, announces. Representatives from the various Pyramids of Sciots throughout the state will be present.

Turley, paving expert who gathered his information preliminary to making a report to the city engineers of the bay, returned last week. Turley has reports in preparation now to the city engineers of Richmond, El Cerrito, to the county surveyors of Contra Costa and Solano counties on the findings of his trip.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Indianapolis, were the cities visited by Turley. He reports that the cities of the east as well as those in the west, are interested in the trying of new formulas for new and better types of pavement.

Is Every Day a Backache Day?

Richmond Folks Have Found The Cause and Corrected It

Is your back lame and aching? Are you tortured with sharp, rheumatic pains; miserable with headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities? No wonder, then, you feel worn-out and discouraged. But have you given any thought to your kidneys? You should! Weak kidneys cause just such troubles. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Here's a Richmond case.

Mrs. R. Doolittle, 1415 Nevins Ave., says: "Doan's Pills are the best remedy I have ever used and always helped me. If I took cold it always affected my kidneys. I had backaches that kept me miserable and was feeling tired and dull and had no energy. My kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Pills always rid me of such attacks and put my kidneys in good order."

Mrs. Doolittle is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Doolittle had the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all dealers. Believes Future Bright for Air Field in Richmond Appreciation of the courtesy shown him when his plane landed at the Richmond air field was voiced in a communication to the Record-Herald yesterday from Reginald Balmer of Los Angeles.

Balmer's letter read as follows: 642 South Olive Street, Los Angeles, California November 7, 1924.

The Editor, The Richmond Record-Herald, Richmond, California.

DEAR SIR:

First of all, I wish to extend my sincere thanks for the courtesy shown me on the occasion of our visit to Richmond Flying Field—I shall always be proud that the "Consistence" was the first plane to christen this field, which I feel sure is destined to become a prominent landing place for both government and commercial aeroplanes.

May I offer the suggestion that before the field is formally opened, some space thereon should be set aside for a gasoline depot and provisions made for the servicing of commercial or pleasure aeroplanes using this field. This would add considerably to the attractiveness of the location as a landing field, and would assist materially in the furtherance of commercial aviation.

Yours very truly, REGINALD BALMER.

"The Fast Set" at California Theatre

Faultless scenes, artistic direction and an absorbing story all act as a background for a superb cast in William de Mille's latest Paramount picture, "The Fast Set," which came to town last night at the California theatre. Clara Beranger adapted the photoplay from Frederick Lonsdale's stage hit "Spring Cleaning."

The originality of the plot is something that deserves honorable mention. The story unfolds the manner in which a husband saves his wife from a gay Lothario who makes a hobby of making love to married women. The husband, a famous author, surrounded by his high-brow friends, doesn't realize that his wife, young, beautiful and full of life, is bored to tears with her commonplace existence. It is when he wakes from his fool's paradise to discover that he is in danger of losing her that events begin to happen thick and fast.

There is no lack of acting talent. Betty Compson, Adolph Menjou, Elliott Dexter and Zasu Pitts, the four featured players, are a screen quartet with whom film-goers will find no fault. And the supporting cast is more than adequate in their respective roles.

Other features on the same program include "Fast and Furious," a Lige Conley comedy riot; "Snapshots of the Universe," a Hodge Dodge; "Local Lads," Larry F. Canelo at the organ.

John and Sebastian Cabot, Mayflower Pioneers and helped to settle Massachusetts. His father was of aristocratic origin, and he early abandoned the law for the pleasing diversion of writing, in which his style was lucid, forceful and finished. His researches in the musty records of the Massachusetts libraries revealed a wealth of material with which his soul attended, and his first book, brought out in 1877, "The Life and Letters of George Cabot," was enthusiastically received. His forte was historical and biographical works, and in 1887 he produced "A Short History of The English Colonies in America." Lodge's mind ran along constitutional channels. He was an "Old Guard" man even before he entered politics, for he dug down to the Tap-Root of government in this country for his inspirations. He early learned the constitution, the declaration of independence almost by heart, and to him there were no heroes of his day and generation who shed about themselves the benign influences which characterized the executive, legislative and judicial heads of the young republic.

His "Life of Alexander Hamilton" in 1882 was resplendent with praise of the man who gave the government a financial system through his work as first secretary of the treasury. Lodge's editorial duties with his publication began in 1837 and ceased in 1876 when he offered his deep store of information and his forensic talents to the bar.

The political activities and achievements of Lodge were in no sense secondary to his literary attainments. His political career started when he was elected to the Massachusetts legislature for the term 1880-81. He was next elected to the fifth congress of 1887, and served through the fifty-second, 1898, as representative of the sixth district of Massachusetts. In 1893 he was sent to the United States senate, and was returned at every other election by his republican constituents. In 1922 his handsome majority of other years was cut down to about 5,000. His term was due to have expired March 3, 1929.

To recite Lodge's record in detail is but to gild a lily of conspicuous achievement which has few parallels in any country. He was elected republican floor leader in 1918, and held that honor at the time of his death. He was a delegate to republican national conventions from 1884 through 1908, and skipping 1912, was returned in 1916 and 1922, but at the recent republican convention at Cleveland, occupied an inconspicuous place in the Massachusetts delegation, because he had offended the administration by refusing to support all its measures. In 1895 he placed in nomination the fiery statesman, Thomas B. Reed, who was defeated through the transfer of Mark Hanna's influence to the McKinley cause. In 1900 and 1906 he was elected permanent chairman of the conventions.

He became a member of the Alaskan Boundary Tribunal in 1903, the United States Immigration commission, 1907, and commissioner plenipotentiary to the United States international conference on the limitation of armaments at Washington, 1921. He was a lecturer of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, a trustee of the Boston Athenaeum, member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, president of the Massachusetts Historical Society, 1915, member of the Virginia Historical Society, the Northeastern Historical-Genealogical Society, the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, the Royal Historical Society of London, Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, president of Harvard Alumni, 1914, members of the Mayflower and Colonial Societies of Massachusetts, and overseer of Harvard University since 1911. His Massachusetts home was in Nahant. He maintained a fine home at 1765 Massachusetts avenue, northwest Washington, and after his wife died some years ago lived there in semi-seclusion, surrounded by his books, maps and portraits. His library was one of the most complete in the United States, and just was never allowed to find a resting place on his beloved and much-used volumes.

His daughter, the widow of the late Major Augustus P. Gardner, lived with him. His wife was Anna Cabot Mills, daughter of Rear Admiral Chas. H. Davis, whom he married, June 29, 1871, a son, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., a New York lawyer, also survives.

Honorary degrees were conferred on Lodge by Williams, Yale, Clark, Harvard, Amherst, Union, Princeton, Dartmouth and Brown.

Lodge assumed the scepter when the newly-elected 66th congress was convened in extra session by president Wilson, May 19, 1919. He held that office continuously through the three sessions of the 66th, the four sessions of the 67th and the first session of the 68th, which recently adjourned.

In this position of vantage it fell to Senator Lodge to direct the course of the republican members in the historic battle over the Wilson League of Nations. Wilson and his supporters directly charged him with responsibility for "Wrecking the Versailles Treaty."

Thus, the vote of the "Irreconcilable republicans," taken with the votes of their "Strange Bed-Fellows," The Wilson democrats, made more than the one-third needed to defeat ratification, and Lodge's "Campaigning of Emasculation by Indirection" ended in a sweeping victory.

When the Japanese exclusion clause in the Immigration Bill came before the senate at its last session, Lodge was inclined to oppose it. But when Ambassador Hanihara threatened "Grave Consequences" in a note to Secretary Hughes, the pilgrim blood within him boiled and he declared for the right of this country to settle its domestic affairs.

A philosopher has said that a man who smiles in the face of disaster never tastes defeat. To the extent that he maintained his composure on all occasions, Henry Cabot Lodge was a conqueror in all things. He was a chivalric gentleman of the old school on whose wrath the sun never set.

GrandMa Never Let Her Hair Get Gray

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

An Empire Builder's Creed of Success—

James J. Hill, builder of the great railroad systems that opened to the world the vast riches of the Northwest, said:

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or not, you will find out easily. The test is simple and infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as fate for the seed of success is not in you."

THIS HAS REFERENCE TO THE PRICE CUTTER

Tell me not in smiling numbers
Selling costs are what they seem
And the man who cuts for orders
Gets the lion's share of cream.

If you strive to build a business,
Do not be a human sieve—
Letting leak your needed profit,
Trusting luck will let you live.

Lives of dead ones all remind us
What it means to sell on guess,
Their departure makes us keener
To sell right and not "for less."

For no trade can long be loyal
To a man who's all regrets,
Can't deliver—who's just living
On the interests of his debts.

Glory be. This don't hit us in the least. This we know, for we have lost some printing of late on which we submitted bids, just because some other fellow wanted to keep his "force" busy—and cut the price below "let-live prices." Our prices are right to YOU and WE alike—quality of stock and workmanship considered. Let us prove this to you the next time you want printing that IS Printing.

U. C. CAGE TEAM IS NOW READY

PRACTICE TO START AT GYM THIS EVENING

Six Letter Men Are Back And Other Likely Candidates Are Out

With six letter men back, and several likely men from last year's freshman teams on deck, California basketball men will gather tonight for the season's first workout in Harmon gymnasium.

"Nibs" Price, newly appointed coach of the Bruin cagers, will arrive from Seattle with the football team this morning, and will be on hand to take full charge of the 55 men who signed up at the basketball candidates meeting last Friday.

Of the number who enrolled on the squad lists, some 25 are freshmen. These men will be organized tonight, and as soon as the new freshman coach is announced they will be turned over to him. The Varsity squad will be divided into two groups of fifteen men each, one division taking the floor at 7:30 each night, and the other going on at 9 o'clock.

In the Varsity ranks there is going to be some mighty keen competition for berths on the team. Already, the markings of a winning combination are seen in Captain Lader, Benny Holmes, Al Kyte, Bill Higgins, Vern Carver and Harold Belasco.

The sum of $100 was taken from the home of J. M. Rodriguez, 2519 Barrett avenue, by week-end burglars. The home of John A. Miller, 619 Thirty-third street, also was ransacked, but nothing of value was taken.

CARDINALS TO MEET MONTANA TEAM SATURDAY

Rumors of Post Season Game Still Persist on Farm; Nothing Definite

Stanford meets the University of Montana football eleven at the Cardinal stadium next Saturday.

Rumors of a post season game for Coach Glenn Warner's team persist. Coach E. P. Hunt last Saturday won his second victory in three years over the University of California freshmen, which was for Stanford the second first year victory in more years than most Card followers can remember.

Between the three subjects Stanford football is unusually live this week.

In Montana the Cardinals will face a team with a tricky attack, but unsettled defense. Montana, scored against both Washington and Idaho, though her eleven was beaten decisively by both organizations. Idaho actually trailed the new conference eleven 0 to 13 at the end of the first quarter, and was forced to open its bewildering passing attack to win. By this method the Vandals counted 40 points. Washington beat Montana 52 to 7.
